Wellbeing Wednesday

Wednesday 6/1/2021

'Homework'
Have a go at the homework in 'Resource 2' – we will go over these in our afternoon call!

English
Today we are learning to: Use synonyms
Read the pages from Clockwork - 'Resource 1'
Activity
Pick some verbs and adjectives from the book and think of synonyms for them (different word, same meaning). Make a list of your words and synonyms - aim for at least 5 pairs! E.g. snoozing + sleeping, downhearted + glum

Maths
This week we are studying 'Position and Direction'

Connect
Join your group's catch-up meetings today!
Could you call a friend while you are doing your work, or just to say hi?

Be active
Get active! Go for a walk or jog, do an exercise video, set up an obstacle course in your house or garden, turn on your favourite music and dance around for half an hour...? We would usually be going on our woodland walk today – could you ask your family if you can go for a walk and explore your local area together?

Keep learning
Think about what hobby you might like to take up at home. Dedicate time to your hobby every Wellbeing Wednesday. Here are some ideas...
Learning a language – you could use Duolingo
Writing – write your own comic strips, poetry or graphic novels?
Reading – take some time to get lost in a book!
Drawing – you could use YouTube tutorials or draw things that interest you
Rambling – enjoy walking in nature
Exercise – try out a new way of keeping fit. It could be dancing, yoga, boxing – there are lots of free online classes on YouTube!
Coding – use Scratch or other free coding websites
Gardening – don't have a garden? Notice the nature outside your window or on your walks!
Crafts – get inspired to create something!
Games – learn a new game, like chess...?
Music – listen to music, or create your own!

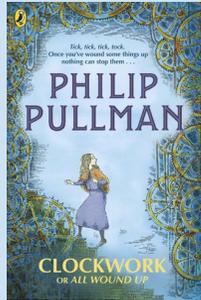

Take notice
Take a couple of quiet minutes to have a go at this 5 finger breathing activity. How did you feel before? How do you feel after?

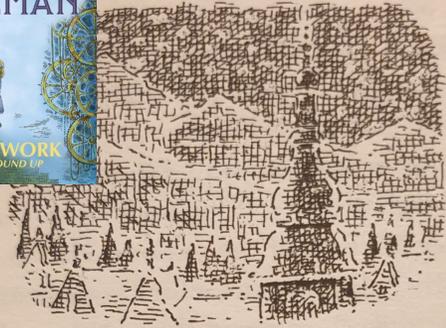

Give
Give your time to someone today!
You could offer to help a family member with some chores, or tidy your room? You could read a book to a younger sibling or play with them for a while?

Remember to take lots of exercise and brain breaks away from your screen during the day!

PART ONE

Once upon a time (when time ran by clockwork), a strange event took place in a little German town. Actually, it was a series of events, all fitting together like the parts of a clock, and although each person saw a different part, no-one saw the whole of it; but here it is, as well as I can tell it.

It began on a winter's evening, when the townsfolk were gathering in the White Horse Tavern. The snow was blowing down from the mountains, and the wind was making the bells shift restlessly in the church tower. The windows were steamed up, the stove was blazing brightly, Putzi the old black cat was snoozing on the hearth; and the air was full of the rich smells of sausage and sauerkraut, of tobacco and beer. Gretl the little barmaid, the landlord's daughter, was hurrying to and fro with foaming mugs and steaming plates.

The door opened, and fat white flakes of snow swirled in, to faint away into water as they met the heat of the parlour. The incomers, Herr Ringelmann the clockmaker and his apprentice Karl, stamped their boots and shook the snow off their greatcoats.

'It's Herr Ringelmann!' said the Burgomaster. 'Well, old friend, come and drink some beer with me! And a mug for young what's his name, your apprentice.'

Karl the apprentice nodded his thanks and went to sit by himself in a corner. His expression was dark and gloomy.

'What's the matter with young thingamajig?' said the Burgomaster. 'He looks as if he's swallowed a thundercloud.'

'Oh, I shouldn't worry,' said the old clockmaker, sitting down at the table with his friends. 'He's anxious about tomorrow. His apprenticeship is coming to an end, you see.'

'Ah, of course!' said the Burgomaster. It was the custom that when a clockmaker's apprentice finished his period of service, he made a new figure for the great clock of Glockenheim. 'So we're to have a new piece of clockwork in the tower! Well, I look forward to seeing it tomorrow.'

'I remember when my apprenticeship came to an end,' said Herr Ringelmann. 'I couldn't sleep for thinking about what would happen when my figure came out of the clock. Supposing I hadn't counted the cogs properly? Supposing the spring was too stiff? Supposing – oh, a thousand things go through your mind. It's a heavy responsibility.'

'Maybe so, but I've never seen the lad look so gloomy before,' said someone else. 'And he's not a cheerful fellow at the best of times.'

And it seemed to the other drinkers that Herr Ringelmann himself was a little down-hearted, but he raised his mug with the rest of them and changed the conversation to another topic.

'I hear young Fritz the novelist is going to read us his new story tonight,' he said.

'So I believe,' said the Burgomaster. 'I hope it's not as terrifying as the last one he read to us. D'you know, I woke three times that night and found my hair on end, just thinking about it!'

Synonyms

Underline the two words in each passage that are synonyms.

- 1) Molly was confused. The computer programme didn't make sense and she felt baffled about how to proceed.
- 2) To maintain good health, you must make sure to wash your hands, keep your teeth clean and regularly drink water.
- 3) It is vital that you eat fruit and vegetables as they contain essential vitamins.
- 4) I frequently go to the park to play and run around, but not as often as I'd like.
- 5) The view was absolutely stunning! The glistening blue sea and tall, verdant trees were a picturesque sight.
