Will Brexit affect you?

Starter: Where are we?

This map shows all the countries that make up our world.

Guess! (1-2 mins)
How many countries do you think there are in the world?

There are 193 countries in the world!

Challenge:
Can you find the UK on this map?

Our learning journey for this week!

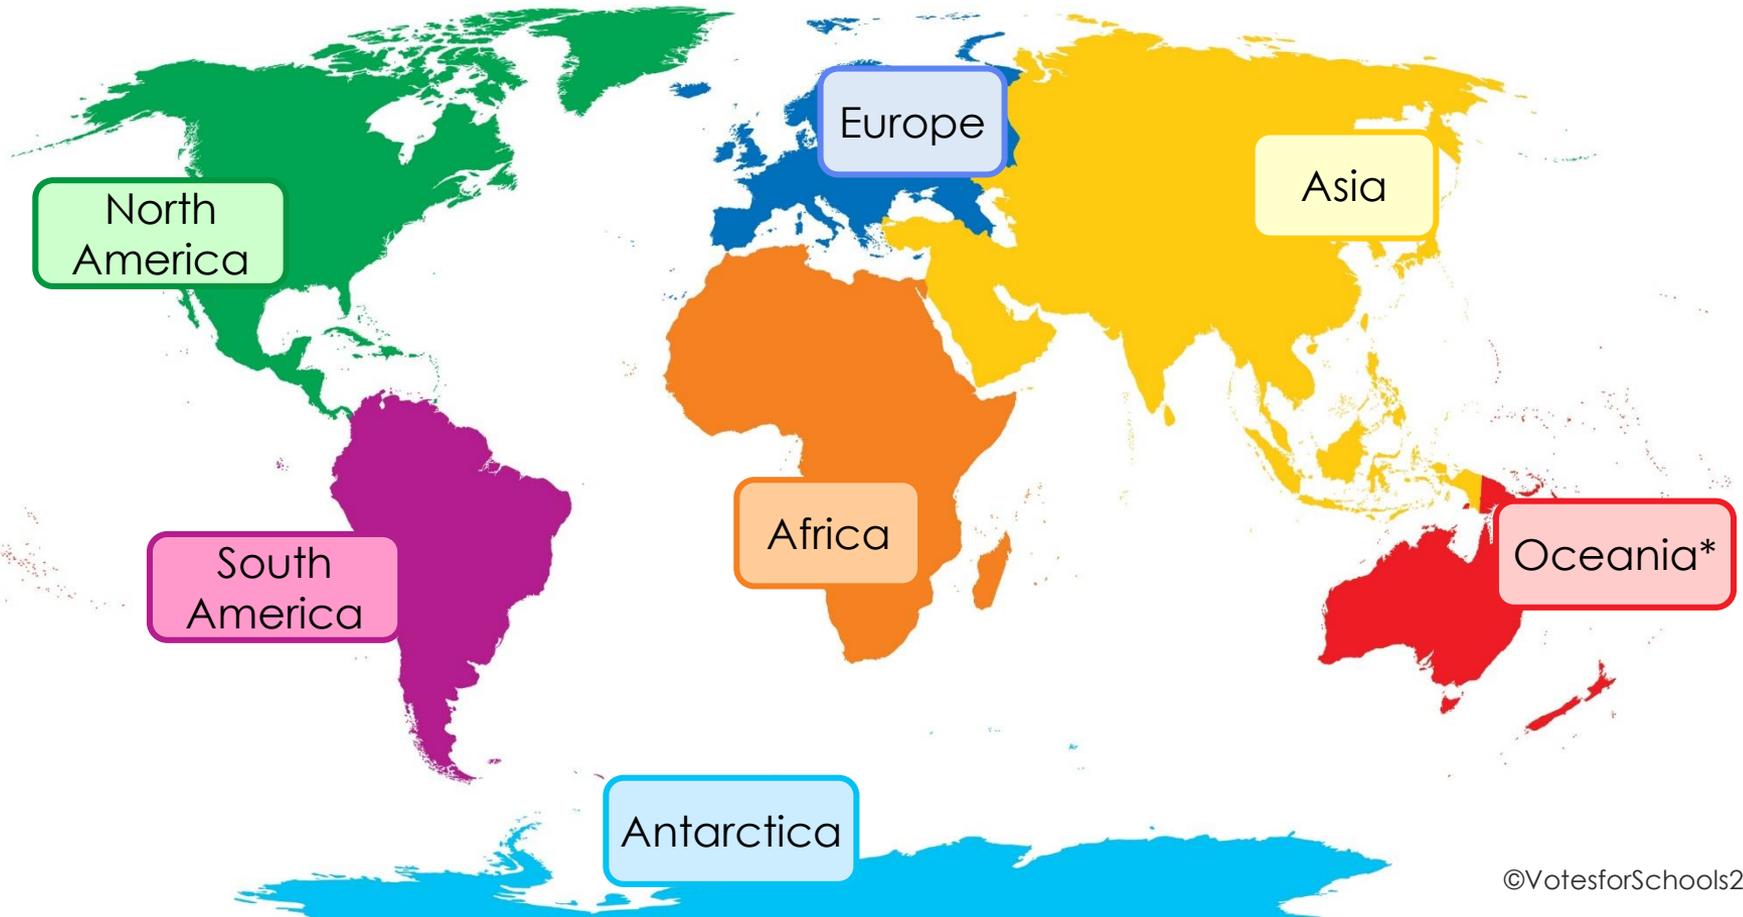

What is the European Union (EU)?

All the countries in the world belong to 7 big groups. We call these continents.

Find out... (2 mins)

Click to see the name of each continent. Do you know which continent the UK is in?

What is the European Union (EU)?

Find home! (1-2 mins)

The UK is in Europe! Can you spot it again on this map?

The UK is made up of four nations: England, Ireland, Scotland and Northern Ireland. There are 44 countries in Europe.

27 of these countries are part of the European Union (EU). The EU is like a club. To join, you have to agree to follow the rules and in return you get certain benefits, such as free trade and travel.

Trade:

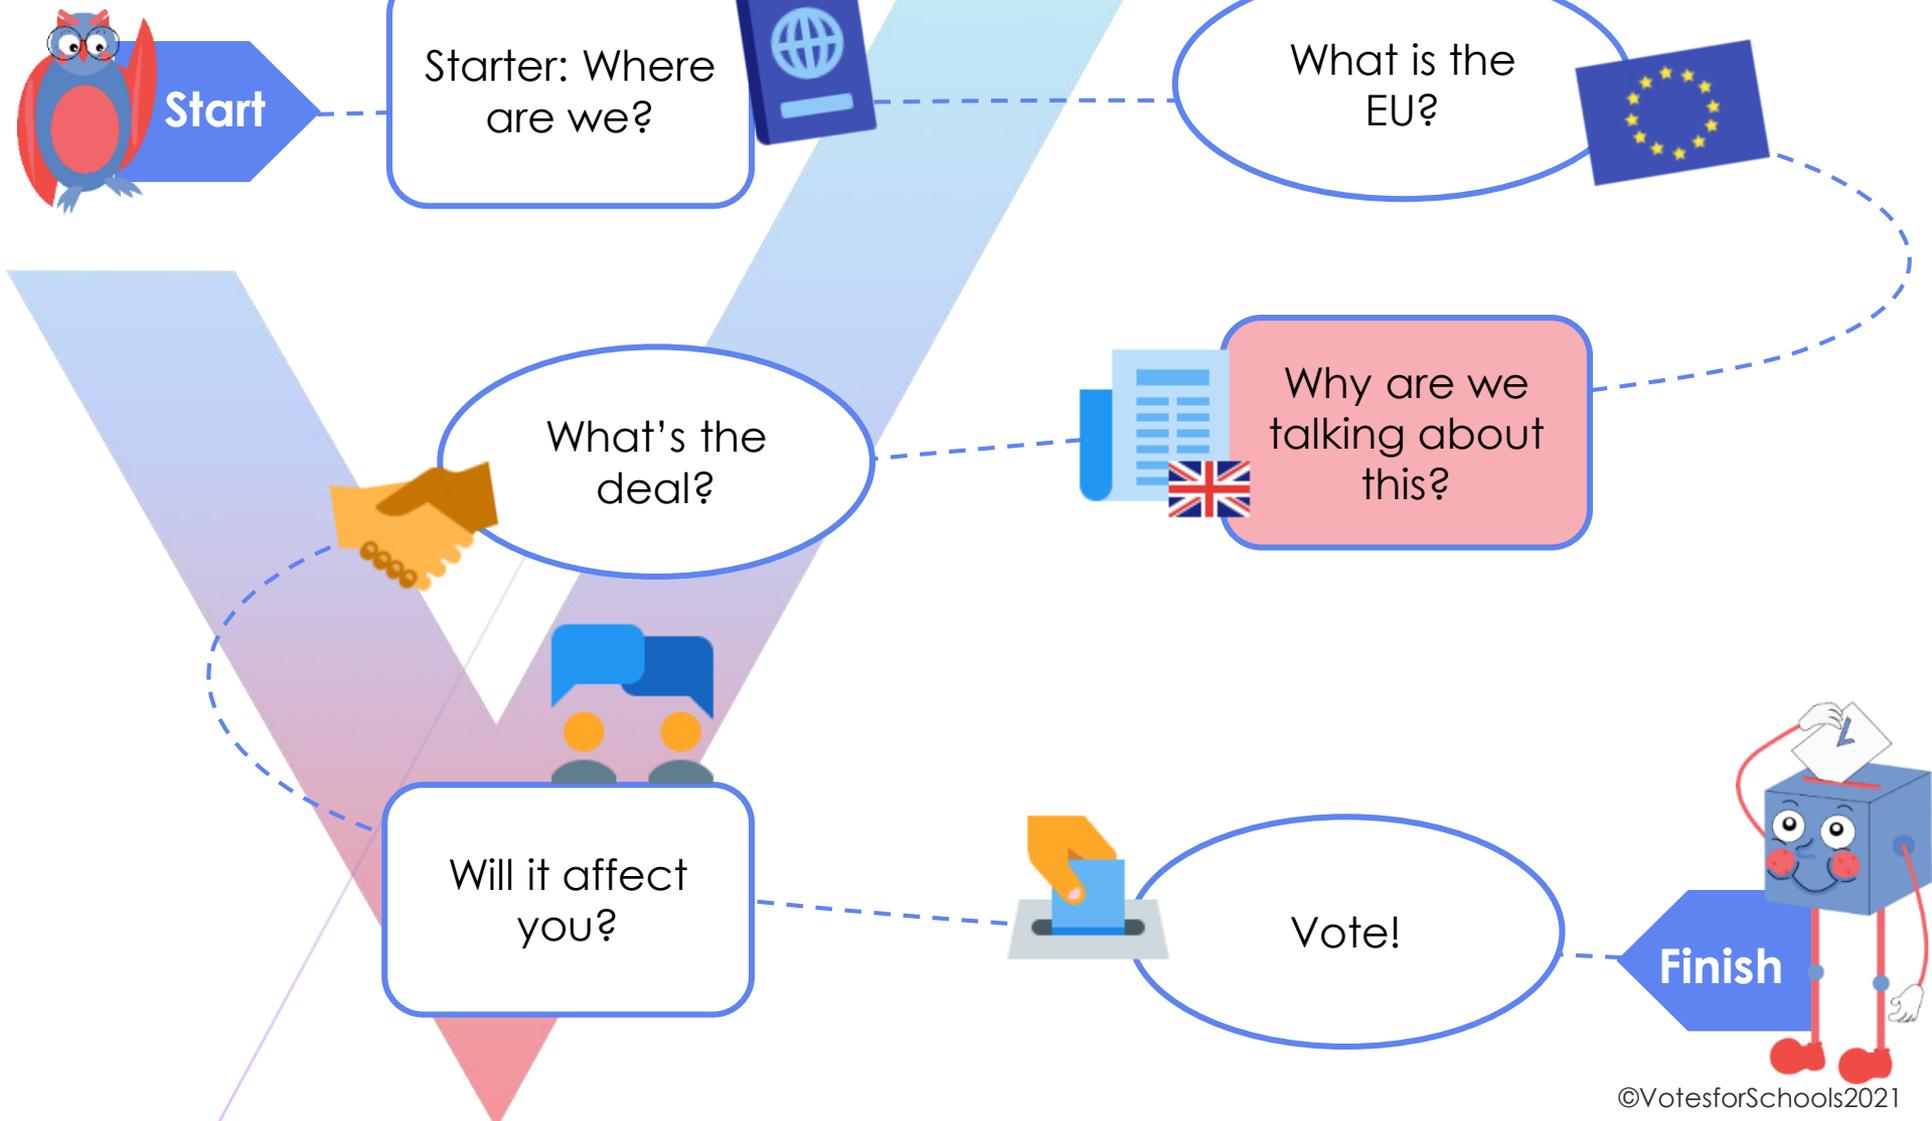

Buying and selling things between different countries.

The UK joined the EU in 1973, but decided to leave the group in 2016. This is what is known as Brexit.

Our learning journey for this week!

Why are we talking about this?

The UK officially left the EU last year (2020), but at first not much changed. This was called the “transition period.”

During the transition period, the UK and the EU held lots of important meetings to decide what would happen next.

On Christmas Eve, Boris Johnson told the UK that a deal had been made and that some things would be changing in the UK now that the transition period was over.

Today, you are going to be finding out about some of the changes that are happening in the UK, and deciding whether you think that they will affect you or not.

Our learning journey for this week!

What's the deal?

As you heard earlier, the UK has made a “deal” with the EU about how they will work together in the future. There's been a lot of talk about this deal, but just how much have you been listening to?

I've heard... (4-7 mins)

On the next few slides, you are going to find out more about some of the changes that are going to happen here in the UK because of Brexit. For each one, read the information and then use your fingers to show how much you think it will affect you.

This won't affect me at all.

This might affect me.

This will affect me a little.

This will affect me a lot.

Working on your own?

For each slide, write down one reason why you think it will or will not affect you.

Challenge:

For each slide, can you think of a person, or group of people who would have the opposite answer to you?

Will it affect you?

When the UK was part of the EU, the UK could buy and sell as many things as it wanted to other EU countries without having to pay any charges (called taxes or tariffs).

This won't affect me at all.

This might affect me.

This will affect me a little.

This will affect me a lot.

Some people were worried that this would change after Brexit, but the new deal means that the UK and the EU will still trade freely.

Will this change affect you?

Will it affect you?

As well as continuing to trade with the EU, the UK has signed a deal with Japan to sell more food and products to them.

This won't affect me at all.

This might affect me.

The new deal also says that EU boats can still catch fish in the sea near the UK, but most of the fish will be kept for the UK.

This will affect me a little.

This will affect me a lot.

Will these changes affect you?

Will it affect you?

Before, people from other EU countries could come and live in the UK. The new deal says that someone must have at least 70 points if they want to come and work in the UK.

This won't affect me at all.

This might affect me.

You can earn points by doing things like studying at university, speaking English or by working in a job that needs more workers.

This will affect me a little.

This will affect me a lot.

Characteristics	Points

When the UK was in the EU, people from the UK could visit any EU country. They could live, work or just stay there for a while before coming back. The new deal has changed this...

This won't affect me at all.

This might affect me.

To spend more than 90 days in the EU, you need to apply for special paperwork called a visa. Your passport also needs to have at least six months left on it before it runs out.

This will affect me a little.

This will affect me a lot.

Will this change affect you?

The new deal also means that people from the UK will need to take out health insurance before they go on holiday, just in case they become ill or get hurt.

This won't affect me at all.

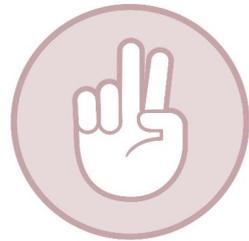

This might affect me.

If people from the UK want to take their pet on holiday with them, they will also need to see their vet before they travel.

This will affect me a little.

This will affect me a lot.

Will it affect you?

Some people were worried that the changes would make things harder for actors, musicians and film makers in the UK.

This won't affect me at all.

This might affect me.

There are still some worries, but the Government have offered for ballet dancers, musicians and artists to come here, and America has spent £1.7 billion on film and TV in the UK!

This will affect me a little.

This will affect me a lot.

Will Brexit affect you?

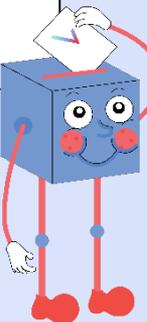

Yes

- While it doesn't affect me right now, Brexit will affect me in the future if I want to work or live in a different country.
- There are lots of changes happening all around me because of Brexit, so I'm sure some will affect me.
- Brexit will affect us all, but I think this will be in a good way!
- ...

No

- Brexit might make things different, but it won't really affect me or my life.
- Things have been changing because of Brexit since 2016, so I don't think we'll really notice any more changes.
- By the time I am an adult, I don't think I will notice the effects.
- ...

We will be sharing your thoughts on this topic with the DfE, a range of MPs, Expatica, Responsible Travel, and the Road Haulage Association.
